Social and Personal

The monthly meeting of the Board of Managers for the Home for Incurables was held Wednesday forenoon, January 5th, at 11 o'clock.

The monthly meeting was followed by the annual meeting, at which reports were read and officers elected. To the great regret of the board, Miss Mary Greenhow, the founder of the Home and its president since its organization, folt herself obliged, on account of ill health, to lay aside the hurden of active duties, which had grown too heavy for herduties which had been kept up for months only through Miss Greenhow's great zeal and interest.

A similar degree of appreciation and sorrow was expressed over the resignation, for a like reason, of Mrs. Helen Gray Manson, the efficient treasurer of years' standling for the Home. The election resulted in the appointment of Miss Greenhow as honorary president; Mrs. Peyton R. Carrington, as president; Mrs. Feyton R. Carrington, as president; Mrs. Feyton R. Manson, honorary treasurer: Miss Annie Ball, treasurer; Mrs. Fitzhigh Mayo, recording secretary; Mrs. F. J. Craigle, corresponding secretary; Miss Alia Foster, chairman of the Committee on Publication; Miss Sallie Greenhow, vice-president, representing the Episcopal Church; Mrs. John S. Harwood, representing the Baptist Church; Mrs. L. O. Miller, the Methodist; Mrs. Loren Diektheon, the Presbyterian; Mrs. Alice Reddy, the Catholic, and Mrs. Simon Sycie, the Hebrew Church.

The board desires to extend thanks to its friends for all contributions during the past year. It will be very grateful for any present or future help, as the Home now has twenty-five innexes.

now has twenty-five inmates.

The Kate Wheelock Whist Club met last afternoon with Mrs. D. T. Williams, of No. 210 East Franklin Street.

The highest score was made by Mrs. Irving Watkins and Mrs. D. T. Williams. The next meeting will be held Wednesday afternoon, January 13th, with Mrs. Williams.

Mrs. Tyng's Lecture.

Mrs. Emma inoffett Tyng, of New York, who will tilk at the Woman's Club on "The Barblzon Painters" on January 11th, will give her lecture on the Holy Grail, illustrated by the Abbey pictures, at the Y. M. C. A. Hall, on the evening of January 12th, Tickets will be sold for this lecture and the proceeds will be devoted to the purchase of a Stelmway grand plane for the use of the Woman's Club.

Mrs. Tyng says with reference to her lecture on the Holy Grail, which she has given in other cities with the greatest success:

Miss Sydnor's Card Party.

Miss Sydnor's Card Party.

Alse Ann Sydnor gave a very enloyable eard party at her home, on Grove Avenue, in honor of her guests, Miss Johnston, of New York, and Miss Harlow, of North Carolina. The spacious hall and parlors were beautifully decorated in phims, American Beauty roses and hangings of red and green.

At midnight refreshments were served in a very pleasing manner. The first ladies' prize, which was a handsome pitce of silver, was won by Miss Harlov, of North Carolina. The second lades' prize was won by Miss Grace (Carneal).

First gentleman's prize was won by Mr Reyster, and second gentleman's prize was won by Mr. Wilke Newman. Those present were Miss Harlow, of

No. 6042—In the smart design shown here, the drooping shoulder lines that characterize so many of the season's styles, are shown to advantage in the development of figured and plain material. The applied yoke is prettily shaped with points to which the bands are attached by buttons. The cuff is of fanciful shape to correspond with the yoke.

The pattern also includes the stylish stock, shown in illustration, which may also be used for other waists.

The matter of yoke is optional, as a plain shirt-waist with gathers on the shoulders forms the foundation, and may be made without the yoke if desired. A pretty development would be in blue figured madras, linen, percale or gingham, using white or plain colored material for yoke, cuffs, collar and bands. The design is equally suitable for silk, challle or any of the light-weight materials.

The troubles of the Terry family in Henrico seem never to end. They are the proprietors of the well-known Terry's Hall, on Ashland Street. A short while ago W. P. Terry, the son, was convicted before a magistrate's court for violation of the Barksdale law, but acquitted in the County Court. The charge of selling whiskey on Sunday was then brought against the house and 'Squire Lewis imposed a sovere penalty, revoking the license, placing a line upon Terry and requiring him to give security. To this ruling he took an appeal, which is sim pending. A day or two ago the Terrys came to the fore again. T. S. Terry, the father, was charged with keeping a disorderly place, to the destruction of the peace of the community. 'Squire Lewis again sat upon the bench. He fined Terry $25 and asked for security in, the sum of $500. Terry went to Jail and is there now. The troubles of the Terry family in Sport.

At the Reservoir lake last night and at the other pends in and around the city there was a repetition of the scenes of the evening before.

The merry sport of skating continues to attract hundreds of the people of the city. The ice is smooth and firm, and in many cases the best that has been seen here in years. The slight moderation in the temperature yesterday, while not sufficient to affect the condition of the ice, removed the sting from the air and made it more of a pleasure to skate. Men, women and children have all betaken to the sport, and many of the best people of the city are seen in the crowds. At nighttime the skating by moonlight is beautiful to look upon. Huge fires are kept going at different points to keep the crowd warm.

The most popular places are the Reservoir, Forest Hill and Lakeside. The ice is exceptionally fine at all of these and morning, afternoon and night sees large crowds on the ponds. Probably fifteen hundred or more people turned out yesterday. For the third or fourth time recently the school-house at Fort Lee, in Varina District, has narrowly escaped destruction by fire. A defective flue has proved the cause of the blaze. On Tuesday damage to the extent of about $50 was done. The presence of mind of the teacher, Miss Agnes Crowder, assisted by some of the scholurs, who formed a bucket brigade, prevented serious trouble. yesterday
A further moderation in the temperature is indicated by the Weather Bureau. It was much more pleasant yesterday,
though the night air continues very cold, it will probably be slightly warmer to-

A warrant has been issued for the arrest of a negro; named Dick Brown, charged with brutally beating his wife. The affair occurred on Tuesday. The Brown woman is advanced in years and is said to have been hadly hurt. She was beaten over the head and face with a stick. RETURN TO SCHOOL

Quito a number of Hollins girls who have been spending the holidays in Richmond have left to return to school, which reopened yesterday. Several went yesterday; a number left before, and a few are romaining until later.

A little party of four took the Atlantic Coast Line train at 12:10 yesterday. About twenty people were at the station to bid them good-bye, and several of the young men went with them as for as Petersburg. The young ladies were Miss Courtney Rountree, Miss Mamle Walker, Miss Berenice Stall and Miss Zula Henry. They were joined by others at Roanoke, and the party went from there to Hollins in a special car. Four young white men, of the same family—David, Tom, George and Walter Deane—have been arrested, charged with hunting with dogs on the property of George Herman, on the Creighton Road, after they had been warned off. They will be tried Saturday by 'Squire Myer Angle.

James Garner is in jail, charged with stealing a calf from Philip Anderson.

Grant Vaughan has been fined $2.50 and costs by 'Squire Lowis for being dis-orderly on the public highway.

About 11 o'clock yesterday morning a large fron-gray, high-spirited horse, attached to a double-seated buggy, and hitched by means of a halter and fron weight, became frightened at Eighth and Broad Streets by a passing street car, and made a wild plunge, wrenching the head gear of the harness away. The wheels of the buggy became interlocked with those of another vehicle, and both vehicles and the other horse were dragged in a tangled mass for quite a distance. dragged in a tangled mass for quite a distance. In an instant everything indicated a bad wreek, as the street was crowded with traffic, which must inevitably have followed, but for the presence of mind, prompt action and brave conduct of Mr. William L. West, a member of Fessler's 'Great White Diamond' Company, the impersonator of the Nyctalops in the play, who chanced to be passing.

Mr. West followed the horse and seized him by the nose, the harness having been rendered useless, and after a sturdy struggle, in which he stood in imminent, perli of being trampled under the horse's hoofs, succeeded in bringing the animal to a standstill and subjecting him to control. Soon others in the crowd that had collected came to Mr. West's assistance, and what promised to be a smashing of property and endangering of the lives and limbs of pedestrians was averted.

GREENSBORO, N. C., Jan. 5.—Thousands of city people went last night and yesterday to the scene of the freight wreck, and the new extension of the street car line, which was just opened last Sunday, did a land office business.

Another element which profited by the catastrophe were several men who were thrown out of the cars when the smash came. Instead of tramps they were mill operatives, coming to Ravolution from Reidsville, who had their household goods along, and took a sneak ride. They were thrown out in fitty yards of their new houses. Their household goods were collected out of the wracked cars, and the railroad officials allowed them to be toted to their houses, and they saved $5 drayage charges from the deput.

She Walks In Beauty.

By LORD BYRON.

This poem, from "Hebrew Melodica," is not in the least like Byron's usual despondent or bitter writings. It is a gem of beauty. Byron's portrait and biographical sketch have already been published in this series.

HE walks in beauty, like the night Of cloudless climes, and starry skies: And all that's best of dark and bright Meet in her aspect and her eyes: Thus mellowed to that tender light Which Heaven to gaudy day denies.

One shade the more, one ray the less, Had half impaired the nameless grace, Which waves in every raven tress; Or softly lightens o'er her face; Where thoughts serenely sweet express, How pure, how dear their dwelling-place,

And on that cheek, and o'er that brow, So soft, so calm, yet eloquent, The smiles that win, the tints that glow, But tell of days in goodness spent, A mind at peace with all below, A heart whose love is innocent!

This series began in the Times-Dispatch Sunday Oct. 11, 1902. One is published such day
